IVANHOE!

WYTHE COUNTY, VA.

At the junction of the North Carolina extension and Cripple Creek extension of the Norfolk and Western Railroad. A great railroad junction, in the heart of the greatest mining district of Southwest Virginia, and destined soon to rank with the great industrial centers of the New South.

THE IVANHOE
LAND AND IMPROVEMENT COMPANY

Offer at Private Sale
Desirable Business and Dwelling Lots at an average Price of $275.

All lots are favorably located on gently rising grounds overlooking the beautiful Valley of New River. The exceedingly low price at which these lots are placed upon the market insures to investors quick and large returns.

TERMS OF SALE: One-third cash, balance in one and two years.

Through its excellent railroad facilities, IVANHOE is placed within minutes of the enormous deposits of Gossan Iron Ore, of Carroll County, and the world famous limestone and mountain ore of Cripple Creek Valley, and also within easy haul of the celebrated Pocahontas and Flat Top coal and coke fields.

IMMENSE LIMESTONE QUARRIES ARE BEING OPERATED WITHIN THE TOWN.

The No. 1 Furnace of the New River Mineral Company is already in successful operation, while the under the Presidency of Mr. Jordan L. Mott, of the Mott Haven Iron Works of New York, has been organized for the purpose of erecting another furnace of large capacity. The extensive mines of the Mud River Mineral Company adjoining the town, are already giving employment to a large number of men.

The IVANHOE ZINC COMPANY, with a capital of $500,000, has purchased immense deposits of exceedingly rich zinc ores, which they are now developing, and will soon erect several zinc furnaces.

Being the only city in the Southern connection of the Norfolk and Western Railroad, IVANHOE must become a great distributing point for the immense ore fields and agricultural and timber districts of Southwest Virginia and Western North Carolina. Situated in the midst of a great wool raising district, and within a short distance of the Southern cotton fields. No place in Virginia possesses greater advantages for woolen and cotton mills.

Vast tracts of Red and White oak, chestnut, hickory, pine and hemlock, near at hand, furnish exceptional opportunities for wood-working establishments and steam tanneries.

A $35,000 Hotel will be erected at once.

Water works, planning mill and brick factory will be erected at an early date.

Situated at 2,000 feet above the sea, the climate is unsurpassed by the celebrated mountain resorts of the world. A large tract of level land with a front of one and a half miles on New River has been set aside for manufacturing purposes. Liberal inducements will be offered all industries locating here. Through its connections with the steamship lines, the Louisville and Nashville, the Cape Fear and Yankin Valley and the Shenandoah railroads and its outlet on the Ohio River, the Norfolk and Western Railroad places IVANHOE in direct communication with the great markets of North, East, South and West. For maps, descriptive pamphlets, etc., apply to the Ivanhoe Land and Improvement Company, or G. M. Seeley, Secretary, Ivanhoe, Wythe county, Va.

WHAT PEOPLE ARE DOING IN AND OUT OF ROANOKE.

The handsome residence of George W. Ammen, in the West End, has been completed, and he will move into it today.

C. A. Huffman returned yesterday from a business trip North.

Dr. William Pendleton, of Floyd Court House, was in the city yesterday.

Benjamin S. Pedigo, Commonwealth's attorney of Floyd county, was in the city yesterday. He said the census does not show very well for his county, giving considerable decrease from that of 1880.

Councilman J. C. Graves and wife gave a very pleasant social Monday night at their home, at which a large number of young people were present.

The employees of the Roanoke Machine Works will have their hearts made glad today by receiving their monthly pay. The amount to be paid out is about $65,000. The shops are in full force now, having orders for nearly four months ahead.

R. H. Gray, Esq., has returned from the Allegheny Springs, where he spent several days.

Rev. J. H. Boyd, pastor of Greene Memorial Church, has recovered from his recent sickness, so as to be out again.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Patterson are spending a few days with friends at Christiansburg.

Mr. John C. Hill, of Vinton, who has been quite ill for some time, has recovered and was in the city yesterday.

Messrs. M. P. Scott and George Fell have returned from a visit to Niagara Falls and Canada, where they spent several weeks in visiting the different points of interest.

WORDS OF WISDOM.

An Article of Sense and Direction—Roanoke Needs Sewers.

The Norfolk Landmark says editorially in yesterday's issue:

Our Roanoke contemporaries are taking a good deal of trouble to deny statements and to counteract impressions unfavorable to the good health of their town. They claim, and they ought to know, that Roanoke is an unusually healthy place. If it is not surely ought to be, for there is enterprise enough in that rising city to erect a perfect sewer system, if it is not already there.

All that is necessary to the perfect health of Roanoke is the establishment of an absolutely efficient system of sewerage, so that the pleasure in the refusal that accumulates in the natural course of events, but of all standing water from the clouds, or from the pipes. Certainly, no liberal-minded or generous person, though living in a competing locality, should entertain or circulate reports detrimental to the good reputation of a sister town, and it is only the meanest man on the earth that could deliberately fabricate stories for such a character for the purpose of injuring a rival locality.

We sympathize with our Roanoke friends in their sense of wrong, as it was a favorite pastime several years ago, for persons who did not know the truth and others who did not care to know it, to refer to Norfolk as a sickly city. There are perhaps many in the country who, having heard of recent such impressions, do not yet know what is a fact, that Norfolk is one of the healthiest cities in the country and has an admirable sewer system. The prosperity of Roanoke cannot be retarded by any malicious report about her public health, for they will be refuted, and her very public-spirited population will not suffer any actual cause of sickness to remain unremoved if it should exist among them.

The October Meeting.

The Melrose Park Driving Association will meet later in the week to pass upon the executive committee's report of a program for the fall meeting. The meeting will be held shortly after that at Lynchburg, and will last for three days. Some fifteen events will be contested, and $3,500 will be divided in prizes. In addition to well-known outsiders are expected to compete.

A Foregone Conclusion.

It has caused no little surprise here that there should be some doubt existing outside of the State with regard to the exact date when the present charter of the Louisiana State Lottery Company expires. This is plainly expressed in the charter of the company which being a public document, is on file and readily accessible. Even the present charter does not terminate until 1895. Moreover, an amendment has been ordered by the Legislature of the State to be submitted to the people, by which the charter of the company will be extended up to the year 1910. Charters are necessarily granted for a limited time, and their renewal is a mere matter of form. This has been fully provided for, as anyone familiar with the facts of the case must know. Great satisfaction is expressed at the management of the company, as superintendents of the drawings, who have maintained the high standard to which the Louisiana State Lottery Company has always lived up.—New Orleans (La.) WHAT IS WRONG WITH EVANS?

A Well Known Virginia Correspondent Accused of Stealing from the Dispatch.

RICHMOND, August 19.—The Dispatch today prints the following story of a gentleman well known in Roanoke, from its Harrisonburg correspondent.

"Your correspondent at Williamsburg in Sunday's Dispatch gives under the heading of 'A Modern Don Quixote,' an account of the movements of Mr. Wilmer Evans at Richmond and elsewhere. As this itinerant gentleman figured in this community about a month ago in a way likely to excite suspicion, your correspondent would place his movements here on record. Mr. Evans rode into town on the 17th of July, or thereabouts, accompanied by his valet, and stopped at the Powers House. He claimed to have come from Castle Hill, the former home of Mrs. Amelie Rives Chanler, where he had stopped for several days.

From this place he started to visit Miss McClelland, the authoress, in upper Buckingham, and on his way to that point he spent the night with W. D. Staples, near Howardsville, proffering a draft for his bill, but finally promising to send it in a few days by mail. While at Mr. Staples he used a small camera he had with him to take negatives of several members of the family, promising to send a half dozen photographs of each. So completely minus funds was he at this point that he borrowed a half-dollar from Mr. Staples to have his horse shod.

He returned to this place a week later, again stopping at the Powers House, and on July 24th presented a draft for $15 at J. L. Moon's banking room, which Mr. Moon consented to cash if he would get a local endorser. This he succeeded in doing in the person of one of our most prominent citizens, who believed Mr. Evans to be "all O. K." The draft was on a brother of Mr. Evans at Roanoke and it promptly came back protested.

Somewhat later, however, of this place went to Roanoke on other business and took occasion to see the brother, who appeared to be a nice gentleman, and who stated that he had had several drafts on him drawn by Wilmer Evans, protested, and intimated that he would only pay out money to save his brother from trouble.

While Mr. Evans, who is a man of Irish and a fluent conversationalist, informed your correspondent that he had established in Baltimore a syndicate known as the Hiss-Evans Syndicate (Mr. Hiss being a partner), from which literary productions—short stories—were furnished to about forty Sunday papers, the Dispatch being among the number. In his travels he was not seeking to write up the country through which he traveled, but sought data upon which to build his stories.

Mr. Evans wrote back from Williamsburg to the gentleman who endorsed the draft for him here asking for the whole amount due him, and stated that he was somewhat "off mentally," and it is not really the intention of the man to defraud those with whom he comes in contact. This, of course, is a liberal construction to be placed upon his course.
